1. GENERAL INFORMATION

A. ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

PUKYONG NATIONAL UNIVERSITY has been evaluated as the best university for the undergraduate educational system by unifying two local national universities successfully for the first time in Korea. Looking back at the educational histories of these two universities (National Fisheries University of Busan and Busan National University of Technology), it has been more than 80 years since their inception. PKNU has 60 departments and 15 interdisciplinary programs for Master's degree courses, and 56 departments and 12 interdisciplinary programs for Doctorate's degree courses.

PKNU's new goal is to be a member of the top 100 global universities. We are also planning to support the development of promising new academic areas and help improve the quality of specialized research projects in at least three fields of study, aiming to rank among the top 10 globally. We will, furthermore, develop a more extensive global educational network. It gives our students numerous opportunities to discover and realize their potential as globally competent human resources. With the support of student exchange programs, they will be able to learn new things from foreign research content and experience diverse exotic cultures in other countries. At the same time, we will continue to encourage highly qualified international students to study with us and work to develop a curriculum that meets their academic needs.

B. KOICA-PKNU IFS

Since 2007, short-term (1 to 3 months) training programs have been administered by the Overseas Fisheries Cooperation Center (OFCC) in Pukyong National University (funded by KOICA and the Ministry of Knowledge Economy). As of 2025, 811 fisheries officials and researchers from 45 countries had been trained to develop fisheries technology and economics. From the remarkable success of the short-term programs, a more specialized Master's Degree Program was instituted. Accordingly, the KOICA-PKNU Interdisciplinary Program of International Fisheries Sciences (KOICA-PKNU IFS) was established and opened in the fall of 2010. The objective of the KOICA-PKNU IFS is to develop experts in fisheries-related fields who are equipped with core skills, practical expertise, problem-solving abilities, international awareness, and vision. The success of KOICA-PKNU IFS will result in the development of underutilized fishery resources in developing countries, benefiting both countries through the exchange of skilled technical knowledge and manpower.
